

PAIGE ALEXANDER
ASSISTANT ADMINISTRATOR

Paige Alexander is the Assistant Administrator of the Bureau for Europe and Eurasia (E&E). With over 20 years working in international development in the region, she draws upon her experience both in the field and in D.C.

From 2001-2010, Alexander was senior vice president at IREX, an international nonprofit development organization that supports educators, journalists and community leaders in over 100 countries.

Prior to joining IREX, she served for eight years in a number of positions in E&E, including as acting deputy assistant administrator.

Alexander's other notable positions include serving as associate director of Project Liberty at Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government, and as a consultant to the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, the C.S. Mott Foundation and the Open Society Institute in Prague. Alexander also served on the boards of the Basic Education Coalition and the Project on Middle East Democracy.